CODE OF GOOD CONDUCT AND TERMS OF USE OF THE LIFE BEYOND TOURISM® COMMUNITY (for juridical and natural persons)

By accessing Life Beyond Tourism® Community, the user tacitly accepts and agrees to the following terms of use.

1. The user is responsible for the maintaining the confidentiality and correctness of his/her authentication credentials for accessing the portal, as well as for the exactness of the personal data entered by him/her at the time of registration. The user agrees not to directly or indirectly transfer or divulge his/her personal password to third parties and agrees to communicate any theft and/or loss and/or unauthorized use by third parties of the password to Life Beyond Tourism® as soon as he/she becomes aware of same, in order to avoid improper use of the Life Beyond Tourism® Community.
2. The web administrator and staff of Life Beyond Tourism® reserve the right, at their sole discretion, to revoke the registration of any Community portal user who fails to abide by these terms, at any time, with no prior notice, and without that this may imply any claim or claims by any User against Life Beyond Tourism®.
3. Each user is solely responsible for correct management of any contents he/she may post on the portal. The entire system, including images and comments, will be periodically backed up for the sole reasons of facilitating technical management of the portal and meeting the requirements set by law; the backups will be kept for a period not in excess of 6 months unless other legitimate causes should arise. The backups are not created for the use of the user public; users are solely responsible for creating copies of the contents they enter on the portal. In exceptional cases, should a user request the support of the Life Beyond Tourism® staff for restoring lost contents, the Life Beyond Tourism® may request a contribution to cover expenses.
4. Photographs, images, and/or collages with pornographic, obscene, or erotic contents or that favor pedophilia or that in any way may offend third-party sensibilities are not admissible.
5. Photographs that may offend any type of religion and/or containing messages that are discriminatory, racist, or offensive to human rights may not be published.
6. Photographs whose purpose is contrary to public order and/or morality and/or that are indecent and/or of a political nature may not be published. Any political discussions in any section will not be accepted.
7. Photographs and images containing false or misleading statements or information or photographs whose sole scope is to advertise in any unauthorized manner, using our system, may not be published.
8. Users are solely and singly responsible for the accuracy/logical consistency/correctness all the material (information, articles, images, material integrating previously-published articles, corrections, etc.) published by themselves anywhere on the whole community, and for its compliance with all applicable laws, including current authors rights and/or intellectual property protection laws and/or regulations and Italian Legislative Decree no. 196/2003 "Personal Data Protection Code." [Note: it is not possible to publish contents in anonymous form. The staff will always be able to associate any contents present on the portal with the user who published it.]
9. At its sole judgement and as a precautionary measure, the staff will black out from the whole community and its websites any contents in regard of which any inadequacy concerning their accuracy, correctness, compliance with authors rights and intellectual property laws and with Italian Legislative Decree no. 196/2003 "Personal Data Protection Code" has been reported and/or which in any way violate any law or regulation applicable to the contents.

We accordingly invite users to contribute to the efficacy of the platform by reporting any negative elements that may come to their attention.

Update to February 24th, 2011

10. Should legal action be brought against Life Beyond Tourism® by third parties for improper conduct, entry of contents, or the ways in which the service is used by a Community user, said user expressly agrees and commit since now to release the Life Beyond Tourism® from any and all liability for damages for any and all claims advanced by third parties as well as to reimburse all expenses and all economic damages directly or indirectly caused to the association pursuant to the legal actions in question.

11. Violation of the community's websites security, including accessing reserved sections and/or data, is expressly prohibited. Note that the system administrator is in possession of all the tools required for identifying the source of any attempted unauthorized access. Use the system, don't abuse it!

12. No Material and/or Contents and/or Photographs may be used without the express authorization of the author/owner/entitled persons.

13. No Contents on any part of the www.lifebeyondtourism.org - as well as of relative sub-domains, and of all the websites belonging to the community - may be used without the express authorization of the web administrator and/or for any purposes that do not align with the purposes of the Life Beyond Tourism® Manifesto. (i.e. commercial purposes).

14. This site and its staff prohibit such practices as spamming and hidden advertising or diffusion of unauthorized information and/or information not pertinent to the Value-Based Tourism theme.

15. The users making up the Community are expected to exercise control and to abide by, Community regulations. Should a user note conduct not in accordance with the rules, he/she is invited to report it immediately. The Community staff and moderators will thus be able to evaluate the single cases and decide on appropriate action.

16. The decisions of the Staff are final; any contestations must be presented in private form. The, Community staff, administrator, and moderators reserve the right to discourage any behaviour and conduct not in compliance with the regulations; in this case, the account of the infringing user will be suspended.

The services and tools offered by www.lifebeyondtourism.org may not be used and/or received unless these "CODE OF GOOD CONDUCT AND TERMS OF USE OF THE LIFE BEYOND TOURISM® COMMUNITY" are accepted in full.

17. The material submitted/uploaded/published will be given the widest possible dissemination also through its publication on other websites in partnership with Life Beyond Tourism®. The user acknowledges that all forms of earnings are excluded for the owner of the material submitted/uploaded/published and that all material submitted/uploaded/published is considered as a "donation" and as such will be an integral part of the website.

18. The revoking or termination of a user's registration on the portal Life Beyond Tourism® for any reason whatsoever, shall NOT entail deletion of the user's published material except in cases where said material is not owned by the user him/herself.

These terms of use are subject to update at any time to reflect changes in Italian law and/or evolution of the project (e.g., introduction/activation of new services), and for this reason it is advisable that the user consult these pages frequently to remain abreast of changes, since use of www.lifebeyondtourism.org services implies full acceptance of the terms of use as updated.

Should the aforesaid modifications generate new duties for users or substantial changes, we will advise users of said modifications in communications published on the site, in a section for that purpose, or through other means if such are held to be more suitable.
